-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-5, drawn to an article of clothing having a self heat system, classified in class 2, subclass 69.
 - II. Claims 6-8, drawn to a blanket having a self heat system, classified in class 607, subclass 96.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility such as an article of clothing worn by an individual wherein the article of clothing cannot be inadvertently removed from the individual whereas invention II is a loose covering that is laid over an individual and can be inadvertently removed from the individual. See MPEP § 806.05(d).
3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
4. During a telephone conversation with Mr. Ernest Kettelson on 3 November 2004 a provisional election was made without traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1-5. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 6-8 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Specification

5. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: It appears that the following change is required:

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mac Taggart (UK Patent Application 2,250,908).

Mac Taggart discloses an article of clothing 251 having a self-heat system 15 that provides a rise in temperature of the article of clothing when exposed to air and oxygen (Page 5, lines 5-34).

With regard to claims 3 and 4, the self-heat system 15 includes chemicals materials in combination which when exposed to air creates a chemical reaction that includes rise in temperature. The chemicals include iron, charcoal, sodium chloride and water (Page 5, lines 5-34).

With regard to claim 5, the article of clothing includes one or more portions in which the material of which said article of clothing is made includes said self-heat system thereof completely surrounds one or more body parts, such as an arm, a leg, the person's chest, the top portion of a person's head, and other respective portions of a person's body, with a continuously joined wall of such material, whereby the only way such article of clothing can be removed withdrawing the surrounded body part out from said continually joined wall of such material, whereby said article of clothing having said self-heat system cannot inadvertently fall away from such body portion it is intended to keep warm.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Piwko et al. '505, Eckes '273, Stafford et al. '400, Sarnoff '102, Spector et al. '482, Simmons et al. '144 and Eisendrath '081 disclose various articles of clothing providing a self-heat system that provides a rise in temperature when exposed to air/oxygen.
